Music for the Kaleidescape™ System

The Ultimate Entertainment Experience Just Got Better

Introducing Music for the Kaleidescape™ System

"…it's unrivaled in its role as a house-wide entertainment machine." Sound & Vision™ Magazine

The Kaleidescape System is the new cornerstone for home entertainment. It has already dramatically improved the movie-viewing experience for families all over the world. And now the Kaleidescape System is doing the same for music.

The Kaleidescape System delivers a range of capabilities for music that is unmatched in the industry. It's easier and more compelling to use, and can handle music collections of virtually any size. It automatically organizes your collections and protects them from loss. The system provides intelligent recommendations. It can be personalized with playlists. And the audio output is reference quality.

The Kaleidescape System also integrates easily and elegantly with control systems and standard audio/video equipment to extend your music enjoyment to any room in the house.

The Kaleidescape System now enables you to explore and interact with your music collection in exciting new ways.

Easier and More Compelling

The Kaleidescape user interface is the best. It's simple and intuitive, yet powerful. With the Kaleidescape System, you can display your music collection any number of ways – using album covers or an organized music list. You can sort by artist, album title, track, release date, length and more. And playing your selection is as easy as clicking a button.

Any Size, Anywhere

Music collections of virtually any size can be stored on the Kaleidescape System. A single Kaleidescape Server can hold as many as 10,000 music CDs, and additional servers can be added for even larger collections. Accessing your collection is easy with Kaleidescape Movie Players and Music Players. A Music Player can deliver up to four unique music streams to any number of listening zones simultaneously. If you need more than four streams, just add an additional Music Player. It's that simple.

Automatically Organized

Organizing your CD collection once took hours. Now Kaleidescape simplifies your life. Say goodbye to CDs cluttering your home and the frustration of having to sort them over and over. Just insert a disc in your Kaleidescape System and it automatically imports your music. It also catalogs the albums in your collection thanks to the Kaleidescape Music Guide Service, the most comprehensive music reference currently available. In addition, the Kaleidescape Web Utility enables you to enter your own information into the system.

Protected From Loss

The Kaleidescape System stores all of your music on a high-performance, highly reliable disk array to guard against loss. So no matter how much music you have on your Kaleidescape System, you're protected.

Intelligent Recommendations

Not exactly sure what you'd like to listen to? If you need a recommendation, the Kaleidescape System can help. As you browse your collection, the Kaleidescape System automatically rearranges your CDs right on screen – using the information provided by the Kaleidescape Music Guide Service – and presents you with alternatives and related music selections. This allows you to quickly find exactly what you're looking for and get a range of other listening choices, too.

Personalized with Playlists

When you use Kaleidescape's playlist capability, you can quickly and easily personalize your listening experience. Start with a single album or track and build from there. You can add individual tracks one at a time or whole albums. Once you've assembled your playlist, you can play it as created or in random order.

Outstanding Quality Audio

The Kaleidescape System imports your music exactly as recorded and without compression. We preserve every element of the original recording, including all the transitions, so you can experience music as the artist intended, anywhere in your home.
